Areas Affected: All BSMCON Faculty & Students		Page 1 of 1

Policy Statement

A student who has permanently and officially separated from the College, and who is eligible for readmission may be readmitted to the College. If the student was dismissed from the College, or withdrew as a result of academic or other difficulties, evidence must be shown that the student has progressed toward resolving the problems that resulted in the separation. The applicant must meet any admission requirements established during their absence. Students must complete the program within 150% of attempted credit hours.

Readmission:

Following dismissal from the College, a student may not reapply for readmission for two consecutive semesters. A student may only apply once for readmission. In order to be considered for possible readmission, a student must:

- 1- Submit a completed readmission packet with a personal statement demonstrating insight into reasons for their previous dismissal and a thoughtful plan for success to include math and sciences within 5 years of the readmission application.
- 2- Take a minimum of 9 credits at another accredited academic institution and attain a grade of "B" or better on these attempted credits. These courses most demonstrate a mastery of content or skill that relates to the profession of nursing (i.e. critical thinking; problem solving; medication mathematics; or, writing skills).
- 3- Additional information relevant to a particular student's situation may be required.
- 4- Completion of these requirements is not a guarantee of readmission.

For those readmitted, the following will apply:

All courses required for the nursing major, which are taken after the student is readmitted must be completed with a "C"/satisfactory or better. If a course is failed with a "D"/unsatisfactory or below, the student may not proceed in the given program and will be dismissed.
