Academic Integrity

The College maintains that integrity is essential to the practice of health care and the pursuit of higher education. Academic integrity is predicated upon a code of internal ethics that provides the individual with an opportunity to practice self-governance and self-discipline. Each student must assume responsibility for acting honorably in all situations and upholding the policies and expectations of the College. Violations of academic integrity include, but are not limited to, the following categories:

- A. Lying –Transferring, transmitting, or communicating any false statements. Examples of lying include, but are not limited to, such actions as:

1. Making a false statement to any associate of Bon Secours.
2. Falsifying evidence or testifying falsely during any hearings.
3. Altering records or other official College materials.

B. Cheating –Giving, receiving, offering, or soliciting information on tests or assignments, not authorized by the faculty. Examples of cheating include, but are not limited to, such actions as:

1. Copying from another student’s work (paper, care plan, discussion board post, etc.).
2. Using any materials not authorized during a test, quiz, or exam.
3. Working with another student on any test, quiz, care plan, or any assignment when the instructor has expected independent and unaided effort.
4. Buying, selling, possessing, soliciting, transmitting, or using a test or any material purported to be or proven to be unreleased or previously released contents of any test, quiz, or exam. This includes the sharing of notes taken during a test review.
5. Bribery, solicitation, or bullying of any person to obtain test, quiz, or exam information.
6. Presenting Artificial Intelligence (AI) generated information as your own.

C. Plagiarism –To steal and pass off the ideas or words of another as one's own, without crediting the source. Examples of plagiarism include, but are not limited to, the following actions:

1. Quoting word for word from a source without using quotation marks, footnotes, or bibliographic citation.
2. Summarizing and paraphrasing ideas without acknowledging the source.
3. Submitting work for credit which has not been written by the student.
4. Presenting Artificial Intelligence (AI) generated information as your own. This includes not appropriately crediting/citing material generated by artificial intelligence. Artificial intelligence is an exploratory tool that can assist students with things like idea generation and gathering information. Similar to a calculator in math class, AI should not take the place of original work intended to evaluate a student’s ability to think critically and synthesize information. Any questions about the use of artificial intelligence should be addressed directly with course faculty.

D. Failure to Report - When behavior suspicious of a violation of academic integrity is not reported as detailed in this policy.

Penalties are not sequential and may be imposed at the College’s discretion. A corrective action plan may accompany any of the following disciplinary measures.

1. Warning: A written or verbal notice to a student advising that they are violating or have violated the College rules and may be subject to more severe disciplinary action if the behavior continues.
2. Probation: A written notice to a student advising that they have violated the College rules and will be dismissed if corrective action is not taken immediately.
