POLICY STATEMENT

The student is expected to be present and on time for all classes and practicum experiences. Appointments, work obligations, vacations, and other personal matters are not to be scheduled when the student is committed to the classroom and practicum area. A student who wishes to observe a religious holiday that conflicts with classroom or practicum responsibilities must provide written advance notice to the course or practicum instructor at the beginning of the semester. The student is responsible for all material covered and assignments made during such absences. Practicum hours missed due to religious observance are included in the maximum allowable time that can be missed. Other extenuating circumstances will be evaluated on a case-by-case basis.

Practicum hours of absence are recorded on the student's final practicum evaluation. Tardiness and early departure from the practicum are included as missed time. Any student experiencing a change in health status that impacts their ability to meet the essential technical standards of the nursing student as outlined in the college catalog, cannot be in the practicum setting. Depending on the specific change in health status, documentation may be required for the student to return to the clinical setting. Students will use good judgment when illness occurs. To protect patients, staff and peers, students with a fever and/or symptoms of infectious disease will NOT report to the practicum setting. The practicum instructor may dismiss a student from the practicum setting if the student poses a safety risk to themselves or patients.

Any student who attends less than 90% of the practicum hours for any nursing practicum course will fail the practicum. There is no provision for students to make-up practicum days.

Students enrolled in a precepted/mentored course will need to participate in 100% of the required practicum hours in order to pass the course.
