THE BON SECOURS MEMORIAL COLLEGE OF NURSING

In 1919, the first Bon Secours hospital in the United States opened in Baltimore with the purpose of conducting a hospital and a training school for nurses. Just two years later, the Bon Secours Hospital School of Nursing opened offering a three-year nursing program. The school operated for 49 years preparing students to be professional nurses not only according to state regulations, but also, above all, according to the spirit and traditions of Bon Secours. This principle has been passed down and is carried out every day at Bon Secours Memorial College of Nursing.

The College's rich history dates back to the formation of Richmond Memorial Hospital in 1957. The hospital was built to memorialize the Richmond community's World War II victims and to provide a general hospital that served people of all races and backgrounds, regardless of their ability to pay. Richmond Memorial Hospital's School of Nursing opened in 1961 to serve as a source of nurses for the hospital and to raise the level of health care in the community. In 1993, a replacement hospital for Richmond Memorial was planned in collaboration with Bon Secours. The new hospital, Bon Secours Memorial Regional Medical Center, opened in 1998. The school was renamed the Bon Secours Memorial School of Nursing.

In response to the growing evidence showing a positive correlation between a nurse's education level and patient outcomes, the school launched a four-year Bachelor of Science in nursing degree in 2010 and became the Bon Secours Memorial College of Nursing.

Today we celebrate another outstanding BSN class that joins our alumni. Bon Secours Memorial College of Nursing, in the tradition of our founders, continues its legacy of compassion, respect and generosity, and excellent nursing education.

Academic Procession

In colleges and universities, academic degrees are conferred at commencement exercises. Originally, the term meant the inception of the student graduate as a teacher and his/her recognition as such by other members of the profession. Thus, the term once marked an actual beginning.

The processional and recessional of students and faculty dressed in academic regalia is a traditional part of commencement exercises. The history of academic dress goes back to the medieval universities. In the 12th and 13th centuries, when universities were taking form, they were under the jurisdiction of the church. Those studying wore a habit or cloak to which was attached a cowl or hood which could be pulled up over the head or thrown back, according to weather conditions. Later, the gown served the dual purpose of providing warmth in the unheated halls as well as uniformity of dress.

The hood seems to have had three uses: a covering, a shoulder cape, and a bag for collecting alms. It is believed that when large wigs were worn, the cape of the hood was cut open in front, and the entire garment, cape and hood proper, was allowed to fall back, producing approximately the effect seen today. After wigs went out of fashion, the original shape was not restored. The master's hood is longer than the bachelor's and the doctor's is longer than the master's.

Gowns commonly worn in the colleges and universities of this country have pointed sleeves for the bachelor's degree; long, closed sleeves (with a slit for the arm) for the master's degree; and bell-shaped, open sleeves for the doctoral degree. The master's and bachelor's gowns have no trimming. The gown for the doctoral degree is faced down the front with black velvet with three bars of the same across the sleeves; or these facings and cross bars may be of the velvet color distinctive of the faculty or subject to which the degree pertains.

The cap is an essential part of the academic dress, and it is to be retained on the head throughout all academic exercises except during prayer. In particular, the cap is not to be removed at any point in the conferment of a degree.

For all academic purposes, including trimmings of doctoral gowns, edging of hoods and tassels of caps, the colors associated with the different subjects are as follows:

Nursing .....	Apricot
Health Professions .....	Sage Green
Medical Sciences.....	Kelly Green
Pharmacy .....	Olive Green
Philosophy .....	Dark Blue
Education .....	Light Blue
Theology .....	Crimson

A Bon Secours Hymn

O God, you call us through the years
To courage, justice, and to care,
To spread compassion like the seas:
Good help to all those in need!

As Christ our Savior healed the sick,
We share his yoke for neighbor's sake,
A balm of hope and grace in deed:
Good help to all those in need!

In Christ the poor are lifted up and every fearful heart is freed.
Our charge is liberating love:
Good help to all those in need!

Blessing of the Hands

God of Healing, Compassion, and Liberation,
Bless these hands as special instruments
in the service of others:
May their healing touch always be one of tenderness, patience and love.
Amen.

Go Light Your World

There is a candle in every soul
Some brightly burning, some dark and cold
There is a Spirit who brings a fire
Ignites a candle and makes His home
So carry your candle, run to the darkness
Seek out the helpless, confused and torn
Hold out your candle for all to see it
Take your candle, and go light your world
Take your candle, and go light your world
Frustrated brother, see how he's tried to Light his own candle some other way
See now your sister, she's been robbed and lied to Still holds a candle without a flame
So carry your candle, run to the darkness
Seek out the lonely, the tired and worn
Hold out your candle for all to see it
Take your candle, and go light your world
Take your candle, and go light your world
Cause we are a family whose hearts are blazing
So let's raise our candles and light up the sky
Praying to our Father, in the name of Jesus
Make us a beacon in darkest times
So carry your candle, run to the darkness
Seek out the helpless, deceived and poor
Hold out your candle for all to see it
Take your candle, and go light your world
Carry your candle, run to the darkness
Seek out the hopeless, confused and torn
Hold out your candle for all to see it
Take your candle, and go light your world
Take your candle, and go light your world
Take your candle, and go light your world

The Nursing Pin

The nursing pin given to each graduate during today's pinning ceremony is a replication of the pin given to graduates of the original Bon Secours School of Nursing in Baltimore. Below is a description of the pin as written by Mary Herbert, retired archivist for the Sisters of Bon Secours, USA.

The fleur-de-lis was widely used on stationery for the ministries of the Sisters of Bon Secours in the United States. The fleur-de-lis is a stylized lily and represents the purity of the Blessed Mother, Mary Immaculate.

The fleur-de-lis was placed atop the cross to signify the union the Sisters have with the teachings of Christ; that the path of suffering would lead beyond all pain, suffering and anguish to hope in the resurrection. This is most appropriate for the nursing profession. The fleur-de-lis and cross also signify the close bond of our Lady with her Son; the Bon Secours mission with the lived ministry of the Gospel teachings.

In religious art history, the oval shape signifies both an egg for abundance and creativity, and a crown of laurels for the victorious, who have run the race and won the joy of the Blessed Kingdom with Jesus. Our nurse graduates must use creativity and an abundance of prayer in ministering to the sick and dying; they have run the course of training and succeeded.

The colors are the blue and gold frequently seen in depictions of Our Lady; certainly harkening to the statue of Our Lady of Bon Secours in the Chapel in Paris.

The design of the pin is simple but not simplistic. It is an easy image to recognize; large enough for patients to see, remember, and recall as comforting in times of trouble.
